Fashion Placements in Paris

Though the fashion shows in Milan, New York and London play an important role in the fashion industry, those in Paris are by far the most important. So that you are able to have a glance at what the industry is like leading up to and during this time in Paris, we have designed start dates so that the internship portion of the program begins either during the build up to the fashion shows or during the shows themselves and continues through these important events (depending on your program length). Please visit our Paris Internship Program page to learn more about program costs, duration/breakdown, language training, etc. It is important to note that responsibilities will vary based on your language skills, experience in the field, and duration of your internship.
